The governor today said he will make an announcement as early as next week on plans to pull back restrictions on the state's stay-at-home orders. He now says changes could come "in many days, not weeks." While he was speaking, hundreds of protesters gathered at the State Capitol, demanding an end to the stay-at-home orders. The protests, which were not permitted, sparked some scuffles with California Highway Patrol officers and intensified after officers asked protesters to step off Capitol steps or face arrest.

Also today, on this International Workers' Day, the governor recognized the contributions and sacrifices made by California's essential workforce.

Solano County has extended its stay-at-home order to May 17 but has joined other counties and cities in loosening restrictions on outdoor activities.

The FDA today approved emergency use of an experimental drug that appears to help some coronavirus patients recover faster. #### Being Aware of Learning Opportunities and Constraints Posed by Online Teaching and Moving Towards Anti-Racist Practices

Thursday, May 7, 2020 from 12:00 - 1:30 p.m.

This webinar will address the “taken-for-granted” practices and assumptions that shape the online learning environment and ways in which they can be detrimental to the success of minoritized students. For example, many students only have access to a cellular phone and instructors are not considering how the materials they upload may become distorted on a phone. The current circumstances are overwhelming and it is easy for instructors to default to the students who have the know-how to navigate technology. Register at this link.

College practitioners can find COVID-19 resources, information, and community within the Vision Resource Center. Create an account or log in.
