INFORMATIVE DIGEST

Assembly Bill 417 (2021) authorized the Chancellor's Office to establish the Rising Scholars Network as a new categorical program. It authorizes the Chancellor's Office to enter into agreements with up to 50 community colleges to provide additional funds for services in support of postsecondary education for justice-involved students. The bill defines "justice-involved" as a person who is currently or formerly incarcerated in a California correctional facility, or currently or formerly detained in a juvenile facility. Funds allocated for the Rising Scholars Network should be used to expand the number of justice-involved students participating and succeeding in the community colleges and to be used, to the maximum extent feasible, for supports and services, including, but not limited to, providing specified programs to justice-involved students, such as academic counseling or advising, academic tutoring, or financial aid information and application assistance, peer-to-peer support or mentoring, and assistance with accessing campus resources, including admissions, financial aid and student services.

AB 417 also required the Board of Governors to adopt regulations for the Rising Scholars Network implementing the purposes of the statute. This regulatory action fulfills that requirement.

ESTIMATED COST OR SAVINGS OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

The proposed regulatory action merely implements statutory requirements that authorize community college district participation in a grant program. Accordingly, the estimated cost or savings attributable to the proposed regulatory action are anticipated to be as follows:

Mandate on local agencies or community college districts: None.

Cost or savings to state agencies: None.

Costs to local agencies or community college districts for which reimbursement would be required pursuant to part 7 (commencing with section 17500) of division 4 title 2 of the Government Code: None.

Other non-discretionary cost or savings imposed on community college districts: None.

Cost or savings in federal funding to state agencies: None.

The proposed amendments to title 5 would result in no fiscal impact to local or state governments, nor will it have any fiscal impact on any federal funding. As a grant-based program, the colleges wishing to serve justice-involved students through participation in the Rising Scholars Network, apply for a portion of the funds appropriated for this purpose, thus voluntarily incurring the duties and obligations imposed under these regulations. Moreover, the relevant statutes provide that the program shall be operative in a fiscal year only if funds have been appropriated for that purpose for that fiscal year by the Legislature.
